Subject: RE: Pruitt desk & formaldehyde

She's been digging for a while on formaldehyde. We've responded to at least one formaldehyde related inquiry from her for the past 3 weeks. Also, Deliberative Process / Ex. 5

Annie, OTR: is there anyway we can see these emails or info on who was involved from the office of the administrator? Also, as I understand it, this review has been completed but I'll need to confirm with program staff who are typically gone after 5:30.

Hi all, we're looking at some emails recently released to American Oversight under FOIA that show epa staffers were concerned about formaldehyde emissionA from a desk former Administrator Pruitt wanted, and that they took steps to reduce his exposure. These emails were from last September, roughly the same time that current & former officials tell me the IRIS assessment on formaldehyde was completed and prevented from being made public by political officials. Would y'all care to comment? We're running a short story in the morning. Thanks!
